Unit 8 Extension

1 Read the short article. Decide if the sentences are true (T) or false (F).

- 1 Mobile phones have developed a lot in recent years. ....
- 2 Smartphones can be used to take pictures. ....
- 3 Smartphones don't have many uses. ....
- 4 Smartphones cost the same as ordinary mobiles. ....

Smartphones

In little more than a decade, mobile phone technology has changed a great deal. The smartphones of today are nothing like the mobile phones of ten years ago.

First of all, smartphones are not just phones. For example, you can store information on them as well as send emails and browse the internet. Furthermore, they include an MP3 player and a camera. In other words, they can be used for many different things.

On the other hand, smartphones are much more expensive than ordinary mobile phones. As a result, it is much worse to lose a smartphone than an ordinary mobile.

To sum up, smartphones are very expensive. However, they are also very useful.

2 Read the article again and then complete this plan with the main points.
