Hi Sarah

It was good to hear from you. It has been such a long time since we saw each other. All is going well here, thanks. My New Year's resolution is to spend less time at the office and more time with the family. So far I've not done very well!

It's great that you have been offered a job with Saxon Inc in Indonesia. You asked me what I thought of them. There's not much I can tell you I'm afraid. I only worked for them on a temporary basis for one month. But they seemed efficient and the people I worked with were pleasant. They were nicer than the people at Ashco, anyway!

I just have one word of advice. Make sure that you get all your resettlement costs paid. They can add up to quite a lot.

Anyway, I look forward to hearing about it and I wish you the best of luck with it all.

Dear Sir / Madam

I enrolled on your course 'Spanish for beginners' this term and have attended two lessons. I expected everyone on the course would be a complete beginner like me, but in fact _____

Although the teacher is very kind and helpful, I _____

I was intending to give it a few more lessons before deciding what to do, but I feel that

While I appreciate that it is not the college's fault that the level of the other students is higher than mine, I

I would like to ask for a refund for the cost of the remaining lessons. I hope that if I can improve my Spanish a little by myself, I might be able to enrol for the next beginner's course when it starts.

I look forward to hearing from you

Yours faithfully

25 Rewrite the paragraph from a report about a hotel into three sections: an introduction and two sections with sub-headings and bullet points.

I visited the Gleneagles Bed and Breakfast in Vancouver with a view to including it in our list of recommended places to stay. I kept my identity secret so that the owners would treat me as a normal guest. Overall it was a positive experience. On the plus side, the owners Mr and Mrs English, were extremely welcoming and friendly. They were knowledgeable about the area and gave me good advice about things to do. The bed and breakfast is in a quiet area, although it is a little far from the centre of town. The rooms are small, but comfortable and mine had a bath as well as a shower (not all the rooms do, however). The breakfast was excellent: homemade bread, wild salmon and eggs – and there was plenty of it. The main disadvantage of the Gleneagles is the price, which at $180 Canadian dollars a night is similar to most hotels. But this is Vancouver, after all!
